11 PRIVACY COLLECTION STATEMENT

Girl Guides Australia and State Girl Guides Organisations (referred to in this document as Girl Guides, we, us or our) may collect, use and disclose personal information about you. A worker in this document includes volunteers, employees, delegates, candidates for volunteer work, and prospective employees. An employee in this document is as defined under the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth) (FW Act).

The handling of some personal information by Girl Guides is exempt from certain obligations under the Privacy Act where it directly relates to a current or former employment relationship, and an employee record held by us (where 'employee record' means a record of personal information relating to the employee's employment). This will not apply to all Girl Guides workers, as not all workers are employees.

If you are an employee of Girl Guides, we are required by the Fair Work Act 2009 (Cth) (FW Act) to collect certain information about employees, including name, basis of employment, rate of pay, information about deductions and entitlements, superannuation fund details and information about our payments into that fund, and information relating to an employee's termination. This information must be retained by Girl Guides for a period of 7 years. This will not apply to all Girl Guides workers, as not all workers are employees.

Generally, we collect personal information directly from you, however on occasion we may need to collect additional personal information about you from third parties where collecting directly from you is unreasonable or impractical. For example, we may collect personal information from referees when they provided references, academic institutions or training and certification providers, providers of licence and background-checking services, recruiters and other service providers who assist in the engagement process, and other publicly available sources such as social media platforms.

Generally speaking, we collect and use your personal information for the purposes of providing goods and services or information to you or someone you know, facilitating our internal business operations, and providing you with information about other goods, services, activities, events, promotions, or special offers that may be of interest to you.

We may be required to collect and disclose information about you pursuant to Child Protection policies across Australia.

If you are an applicant for a volunteer or employment position, refusal to provide personal information may mean we are unable to process your job application. If you are a worker, refusal to provide personal information or consent to sensitive information being collected or held for the purposes set out in this privacy policy and any privacy collection statement may adversely affect our ability to comply with our legal obligations and our ability to continue our relationship with you.

We may disclose your personal information to our workers, contractors, consultants, and third parties who assist us in operating our business, third parties to whom you have agreed we may disclose your information, or as otherwise required or authorised by law (including regulatory bodies such as WorkSafe). Our third-party service providers are too numerous to list, and they change from time to time, but may include payroll processors, insurers, superannuation funds, IT and technology service providers, event organisers, mail providers, and professional advisers. Some, such as technology service providers, may be located overseas in countries such as the United States of America, such as Google Analytics and Microsoft. You consent to this overseas disclosure and agree that by providing consent, APP 8.1 under the Privacy Act no longer applies, and we are not required to take reasonable steps to ensure that the overseas recipient does not breach the APPs in relation to that information.

More detailed information about the personal information we collect from you, the way we use, disclose and secure your personal information, how you can access and correct that information, and how you can make a complaint about a breach of privacy can be found in our Privacy Policy, available at Guide Lines for Girl Guides and Girl Guide Volunteers (www.guidelinesforgirlguides.org.au) or by contacting us at:
